THE NEXT GENERATION?

The alarm industry is a growing, dynamic business that fills an important need for many. Alarm technology is constantly changing at rapid paces and new competitive challenges seem to come along every day. You need an inside track to keep ahead. The Burglar and Fire Alarm Association of Michigan (BFAAM) is that inside track.

Join us October 12 for our annual conference and membership meeting. The conference will be hosted at the BFAAM Headquarters in Lansing, Michigan. We are excited for you to see the beautiful renovations made to this historic firehouse.

During the conference, we will be bringing the issues we all face to the forefront and work together to solve them. We will hear directly from the Licensing and Regulatory Affairs (LARA) department concerning how they will effect our industry moving forward as well as job resources available to us. Dan Decker will be on site to review the BFAAM Apprenticeship Program and what steps need to be taken to become a certified technician. Lastly, we will focus on how to bridge the gap between college placement services and our businesses. The steps to build our future are all available during this conference, don't miss this opportunity!
